Victory Loan Commission Divided

NEWS NOTES

A short meeting of the Victory Loan Committee was held Sunday night to decide on the apportionment of the commissions on the Victory Loan Bonds sold in this unit in the drive during June.

A total of $429.00 had been earned as commissions by the Committee and its members, a portion of which went to Wellington, White School and Stirling canvassers. In the immediate town and district $206.12 was earned by the committee and this was divided between the local branch of the Canadian Legion and the Red Cross with $93.28 going to the Legion and $112.84, to the Red Cross. It was a part of the agreement with these two organizations that these funds be used for strictly local purposes, to which the various parties agreed, it being felt that there were plenty of places where a little relief could be used to very good advantage right here.

It is a fine gesture on the part of our Unit Organizer J. H. Walker, M.L.A., and our General Chairman H. S. Allen, and all members of the Committee that such a division be made. These men were laboring from a desire to serve in a necessary and important cause, and when commissions were received they thought was not what shall I do with my share, but how can this be turned to the best use in the community amongst those who need it.

Harvest Promises Heavy Average

From indications so far, Raymond and district is going to have a heavy average yield of wheat this year and with the five bushel quota in effect on delivery, storage will again present a real and vital problem for farmers.

There has not been enough harvesting done yet to make any estimate of average yield but Galbraith Bros. combined a piece of winter wheat which yielded 50 bushels to the acre, graded No. 1 and weighed 63 pounds per bushel. Ralph Bros. delivered some spring wheat, and this was a lovely sample, also grading No. 1 hard and weighing 62 pounds to the bushel. Elevator men report that kernels of spring wheat this year are not quite as large as they were last year, but the color and shape of the grain is equal if not a little better than last year. Ralph's field was estimated to yield 40 bushels to the acre. Combining is not general yet, but farmers are busy getting trucks and combines rigged up ready to get busy, and from the looks of fields stooked and combined a really heavy average yield may be expected.

To meet the threat of the sawfly, no trace of which has been reported in the district so far, farmers are using various means, but nearly every farmer is playing safe. Many fields that will be straight combined have had a swath of 5 to 10 feet cut around the outside, where the sawfly makes his first attack. This, it is claimed will stop their ravages. Many fields have been swathed, being cut on the green side and allowed to

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Anderson returned home, Sunday evening after a two day stay at Waterton.

Don't worry because you can't please everyone. The big question is whether you yourself are satisfied with what you are doing? You are the one who has to account in the final auditing.

Serve by saving. Keep up your purchase of War Savings Certificates to help Canada's War Effort. This investment may come in very handy some time, besides serving your country well.

Messrs. T. Geo. Wood and Frank Taylor were away over the week-end on Company business at the head office in Vancouver, and intermediate points, including a visit to the sugar beet fields in Creston, B.C.

Quite a number of our local Nimrods were at Waterton over the week-end and were a fishing for to catch a whale. From the looks on their faces, when they docked about all they got was back. Booth Card, Jack Judd and Jimmy Anderson were amongst those trying their luck.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace F. Hodge of Blackfoot, Idaho, arrived here Friday afternoon to spend their vacation with friends here, and will spend part of the time in Waterton Park. Mr. Hodge was cashier for the Utah-Idaho Sugar Co. here before the local mill was purchased by the Rogers interests of Vancouver, B. C.

Bob Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Geo. Wood, who has spent the past year in Colorado with his sister Rose Marie, is home for a visit. We asked Bob about the future, and he said he didn't now whether he would stay here or go back to Denver. He has been attending school and working and certainly appears to have enjoyed himself. Like all the rest he is glad to get back home.

A rather long, but very interesting meeting was held in the 2nd Ward Sunday evening, when the family of Pres. A. E. Palmer of Lethbridge furnished the program. Elder Delbert Palmer who has recently returned from a mission to the Argentine was the principal speaker and delighted the audience with his explanations and a number of views of the South American republic. Pres. Palmer was also a speaker. Mrs. Palmer and the girls gave readings and Delbert and his sister sang "We Thank Thee O God for a Prophet" in Spanish, the language spoken in the Argentine.

dry, many acres have been cut with the binder and stooked, and we saw one farmer last week, using his binder, without twine as a swather, and he was really laying out some fine windrows of grain as the binder sailed through the field laying the grain in a uniform line for the pick up of the combine. Raymond farmers apparently do not want any sawfly and are going to do all they can to keep it out of the district.

Infantile Paralysis Increasing

According to newspaper and radio reports, cases of infantile paralysis in the three western provinces are increasing and people are urged to take every precaution to prevent the spread of this sickness to epidemic proportions in the districts where cases have been found. Worst in Manitoba, it seems to be increasing in Saskatchewan and Alberta, with seven cases reported in the Calgary Isolation Hospital on Wednesday, three from out of town and four from Calgary, and Edmonton reported quite a few more than that. The Provincial Health Board has asked that local Boards immediately ban gatherings of any kind for children under 17. Picture shows, church gatherings, dances, swimming pools and any such meeting places where the germs could possibly be spread are included in the Provincial ban, and our local Health Board is following the program. Red Cross Dance Well Attended

The Red Cross Dance held Wednesday evening at the Opera House was well attended, and the crowd seemed to thoroughly enjoy themselves for every minute of the time.

The hall was beautifully decorated in patriotic colors and the tickets and everything connected with the dance savored of Red Cross and its work.

The Cardston Aces were on the job in all their swing time rhythm and the crowd was kept busy and royally entertained from first to last. Congratulations to the committee members who organized and put over such a fine dance.

At the School Board meeting held Monday night, the Board unanimously selected H. Myron Holmes as Chairman, the vacancy being caused by the sudden death of D. G. Selman who had acted as Chairman for a number of years past. This necessitated the re-organizing of committees, and the following set up resulted:

A. H. Zabriskie continues as Secretary-Treasurer.

H. Myron Holmes besides being Chairman is in charge of purchases of supplies.

J. Golden Snow is in charge of Buildings.

T. W. Meldrum has charge of the Grounds.

Gerald J. Gibb, recently elected to the Board, is Chairman of the Staff Committee, and all members of the Board are members of all Committees.

The staff for the coming term is all arranged, and is as follows:

Public School: J. O. Hicken, Principal; Athol Cooper; Rowan C. Stutz; M. W. Hansen; Arminio Kearl; Gladys James; Myrtle Johnson; Ruth Evans; Bird Mendenhall; Doris Jensen; Hazelle Hendry; Margaret Dahl and Martha Thomas.

The buildings are being renovated inside and out ready for the start of the new term the 2nd of September and by the time that day arrives every thing will have been prepared.

We listen to the newscasts and read the paper about the German-Russo war and then we wonder what the situation really is. It is certain that both reports cannot be correct.

May Peg Price Of Hogs

The federal department of agriculture reached an arrangement with the United States government to prevent further shipments of Canadian hogs to that republic. The first noticeable result was a cut in the price of heavy sows by around 3 1/2¢ a pound. There was a market for these animals in the United States, but only a limited market for them in Canada, while the British evidently do not want them. The agreement with the United States may also result in a drop in hog prices before many months pass. Hon. J. G. Gardiner, minister of agriculture, stated at a public meeting held in Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, that the price of hogs may be pegged either on a live weight or rail basis. The Winnipeg price would be used as the basis, with those at other points graduated to take care of differences in transportation costs. This would tend to make hog prices less in Alberta, as often-times they are the equal of Winnipeg due to demand from the Pacific coast.

Mr. Gardiner said that farmers are safe in getting into hog production "in a big way" since Britain is ready to take all the hogs Canada can turn out.

GASOLINE AND SILK STOCKINGS

War at last has begun to touch American consumers. Lightly He has paid somewhat higher prices for food and perhaps waited for delivery of a new car. But the first specific restrictions fall on two typically American luxuries. If anyone nowadays can define a luxury, gasoline and silk stockings.

Perversely enough, the initial reaction is to send people hurrying to the filling stations and the hosiery counters to stock up. Thus for the first day the 7 o'clock closing which was intended to reduce gasoline consumption is reported to have increased sales considerably. And stores find themselves obliged to limit the number of pairs of hose sold to each customer.

This is not an auspicious beginning for a test of democracy. The practical shutdown of the silk industry and the limitations on motor fuel are relatively mild measures taken to conserve important resources for defense. If these measures do not work, rationing must follow on these and probably other items. Rationing may be the fairer way and the ultimately necessary way, but one cannot escape a conviction that if the American people understood the danger from without and the necessity of preserving democracy within, they would respond more heartily to the appeal for voluntary restraint.

In fact, they must count themselves very softly treated by fate if they compare these minor inconveniences with the deprivations being undergone in Japan and Germany as the price of a ideology of aggression in those countries or in Great Britain as the price of resisting the extension of this brutality through the world.

The Japanese do not like whole meat and bread made of green flour, but he puts up with these and with short rations of rice because he has been told the sacrifice will help win a better living. Germans can hardly be enthusiastic about rations which limit any meal to three and a half ounces of meat, with little if any fat to cook it in, or about "ersatz" clothing, substitute chocolate, and an acute scarcity of soap, eggs, cream or fruit.

In Great Britain a new gasoline ration has just gone into effect reducing the allowance for a private citizen to an estimated basis of 165 miles per month. How many Americans would like to cut their motorizing to that extent? Your British man or woman has to count practically every item of clothing in terms not only of shillings but also of ration coupons.

If the nations had been wise enough to live without war, all of them—the so-called "have-not" nations included—would today be living vastly more comfortably to say nothing of the present expenditure in human lives.

To achieve a world without war, the nations which consider themselves underprivileged must be convinced of two points: First, that they cannot better themselves by aggression and conquest. Second, that they can improve their situation by peaceful, productive means. Thus the two great necessities of the world today are: To win the war for freedom and international order, and to assure that the peace is one of economic freedom as well as political justice. And sacrifice is part of the price.—Christian Science Monitor.

Tommy Roberts has a crew of men busy now on the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Nephi Allen to be erected on the corner next to Ira McBride's home. The plans call for a six room fully modern home, 30x42 feet over all with a basement 30 feet square. Cement for the basement walls was being poured Monday this week.

First move to combat gasoline shortage on a commercial scale has been made by the Alberta Government through the Liquor Control Board. A carload of No. 1 durum wheat was shipped to a Vancouver distillery and turned into power alcohol. The test followed appeals made by Hon. J. A. MacKinnon, Minister of Trade and Commerce for the Dominion, and Hon. J. G. Gardiner, Minister of Agriculture. "We have a splendid sample of spirits," said Hon. Solon E. Low, a leading Canadian analyst states it is good and we are awaiting a detailed report. It is said these power spirits can successfully be blended with gasoline up to 20 p.e. ratio with changing carburetors, and it will also eliminate knock.

THE GROCER'S DREAM

Last evening I was talking With a grocer, aged and gray, Who told me of a dream he had. I think 'twas Christmas day. While snoozing in his office The vision came in view, For he saw an angel enter, Dressed in garments white and new.

Said the angel: I'm from heaven. The Lord just sent me down To bring you up to glory. And put on a golden crown. You've been a friend to everyone. And work hard night and day; You've supported many thousands. And from few receive your pay."

"So we want you up in glory. For you have labored hard; And the good Lord is preparing Your eternal just reward." Then the angel and the grocer Started up towards glory's gate. But when passing close to Hades The angel murmured: "Wait!"

"I have a place to show you: It's the hottest place in Hell. Where the ones who never paid you In torment always dwell." And, behold! the grocer saw there His old customers by the score And grabbing up a chair and fan He wishes for nothing more.

But was bound to sit and watch them As they'd sizzle, singe and burn; And his eyes would rest on debtors Whichever way they'd turn. Said the angel: "Come on grocer. There's the pearly gates to see." Th grocer only muttered: "This is Heaven enough for me."

INDUSTRY SPEEDS WAR PRODUCTION BY SUB-CONTRACTING

PULP AND PAPER MILLS MACHINE SHOPS ACTIVE IN WAR PRODUCTION

Montreal, August 10—Sub-contracting of portions of war orders, highly developed in England under the term "bits and pieces," and coming to the fore in the United States under the term "farming-out," is rapidly becoming an important factor in speeding Canadian industrial production of war supplies. Farming out, or sub-contracting bring into use reserves of idle equipment, including that sameimes to be found away from congested areas of population. As the war is placing an ever increasing burden on the country's manufacturing facilities this expedient of utilizing small units of production will be resorted to more and more.

An excellent example of sub-contracting is seen in the substantial volume of business now being handled by the machine shops of the Canadian pulp and paper mills. These shops in normal times are operated to maintain machines and equipment at the mills. However, this only requires about 48 hours a week—leaving machine tools free for other work for some 96 hours in a 6 day week.

Since one of the most serious delays in output of war supplies today is caused by lack of machine tools, the pulp and paper industry decided to mobilize its machine shop facilities and place all available time at the disposal of war work. A special committee of the Canadian Pulp and Paper Association known as the Wartime Machine Shop Board formed to co-ordinate the different mills' shops and allocate orders where possible. The result has been highly successful. Working through the Board several primary producers have been able to let sub-contracts, on certain portions of their orders, to the pulp and paper machine shops thereby speeding completion of the job and easing the strain in their own plants.

It is understood that this plan of farming-out and utilizing all possible machine tools available is well regarded in Ottawa. Authorities have expressed the hope that machine shops throughout Canada will strive to utilize their facilities to the utmost in this way by making their tools available to handle sub-contracts from the heavy armament industries. The Canadian pulp and paper industry has also instituted a training plan, whereby workers in the mills are able to secure short practical training in machine shop work. The mills have already supplied a large number of skilled workers to war industries. The training plan will enable the mills to create a reserve of trained men to fill the places of those who have been transferred to other plants engaged solely on war work.

The pulp and paper industry is Canada's largest employer of labor and the constructive steps being taken to utilize all machine tools and to train skilled workers are regarded as making a definite contribution to the war effort of the Dominion.

A MESSAGE... To Alberta Farmers

The suggestion is offered to Alberta grain producers that wherever possible they should deliver their grain to Alberta Pool Elevators, thus strengthening and building up a purely co-operative organization owned and operated by Alberta farmers.

Alberta Pool Elevators has been singularly successful in developing on co-operative principles the largest grain handling organization in the province; establishing an equitable and fair standard of service for the benefit of all farmers; and in obtaining, in conjunction with its sister Pools in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, through constant contact and intercession with the government of Canada, a measure of price protection and other benefits for the farmers of the western provinces.

It is of the utmost importance at the present time that farmers should have a strong organization to speak for them. The greatest weakness of the farmers' position, from an economic standpoint, is individualism. Farmers must unite if they are to escape being completely submerged.

The Wheat Pool offers a natural rallying point for the farmers. Being founded on true co-operative principles, it is not concerned with politics, religion or national origins.

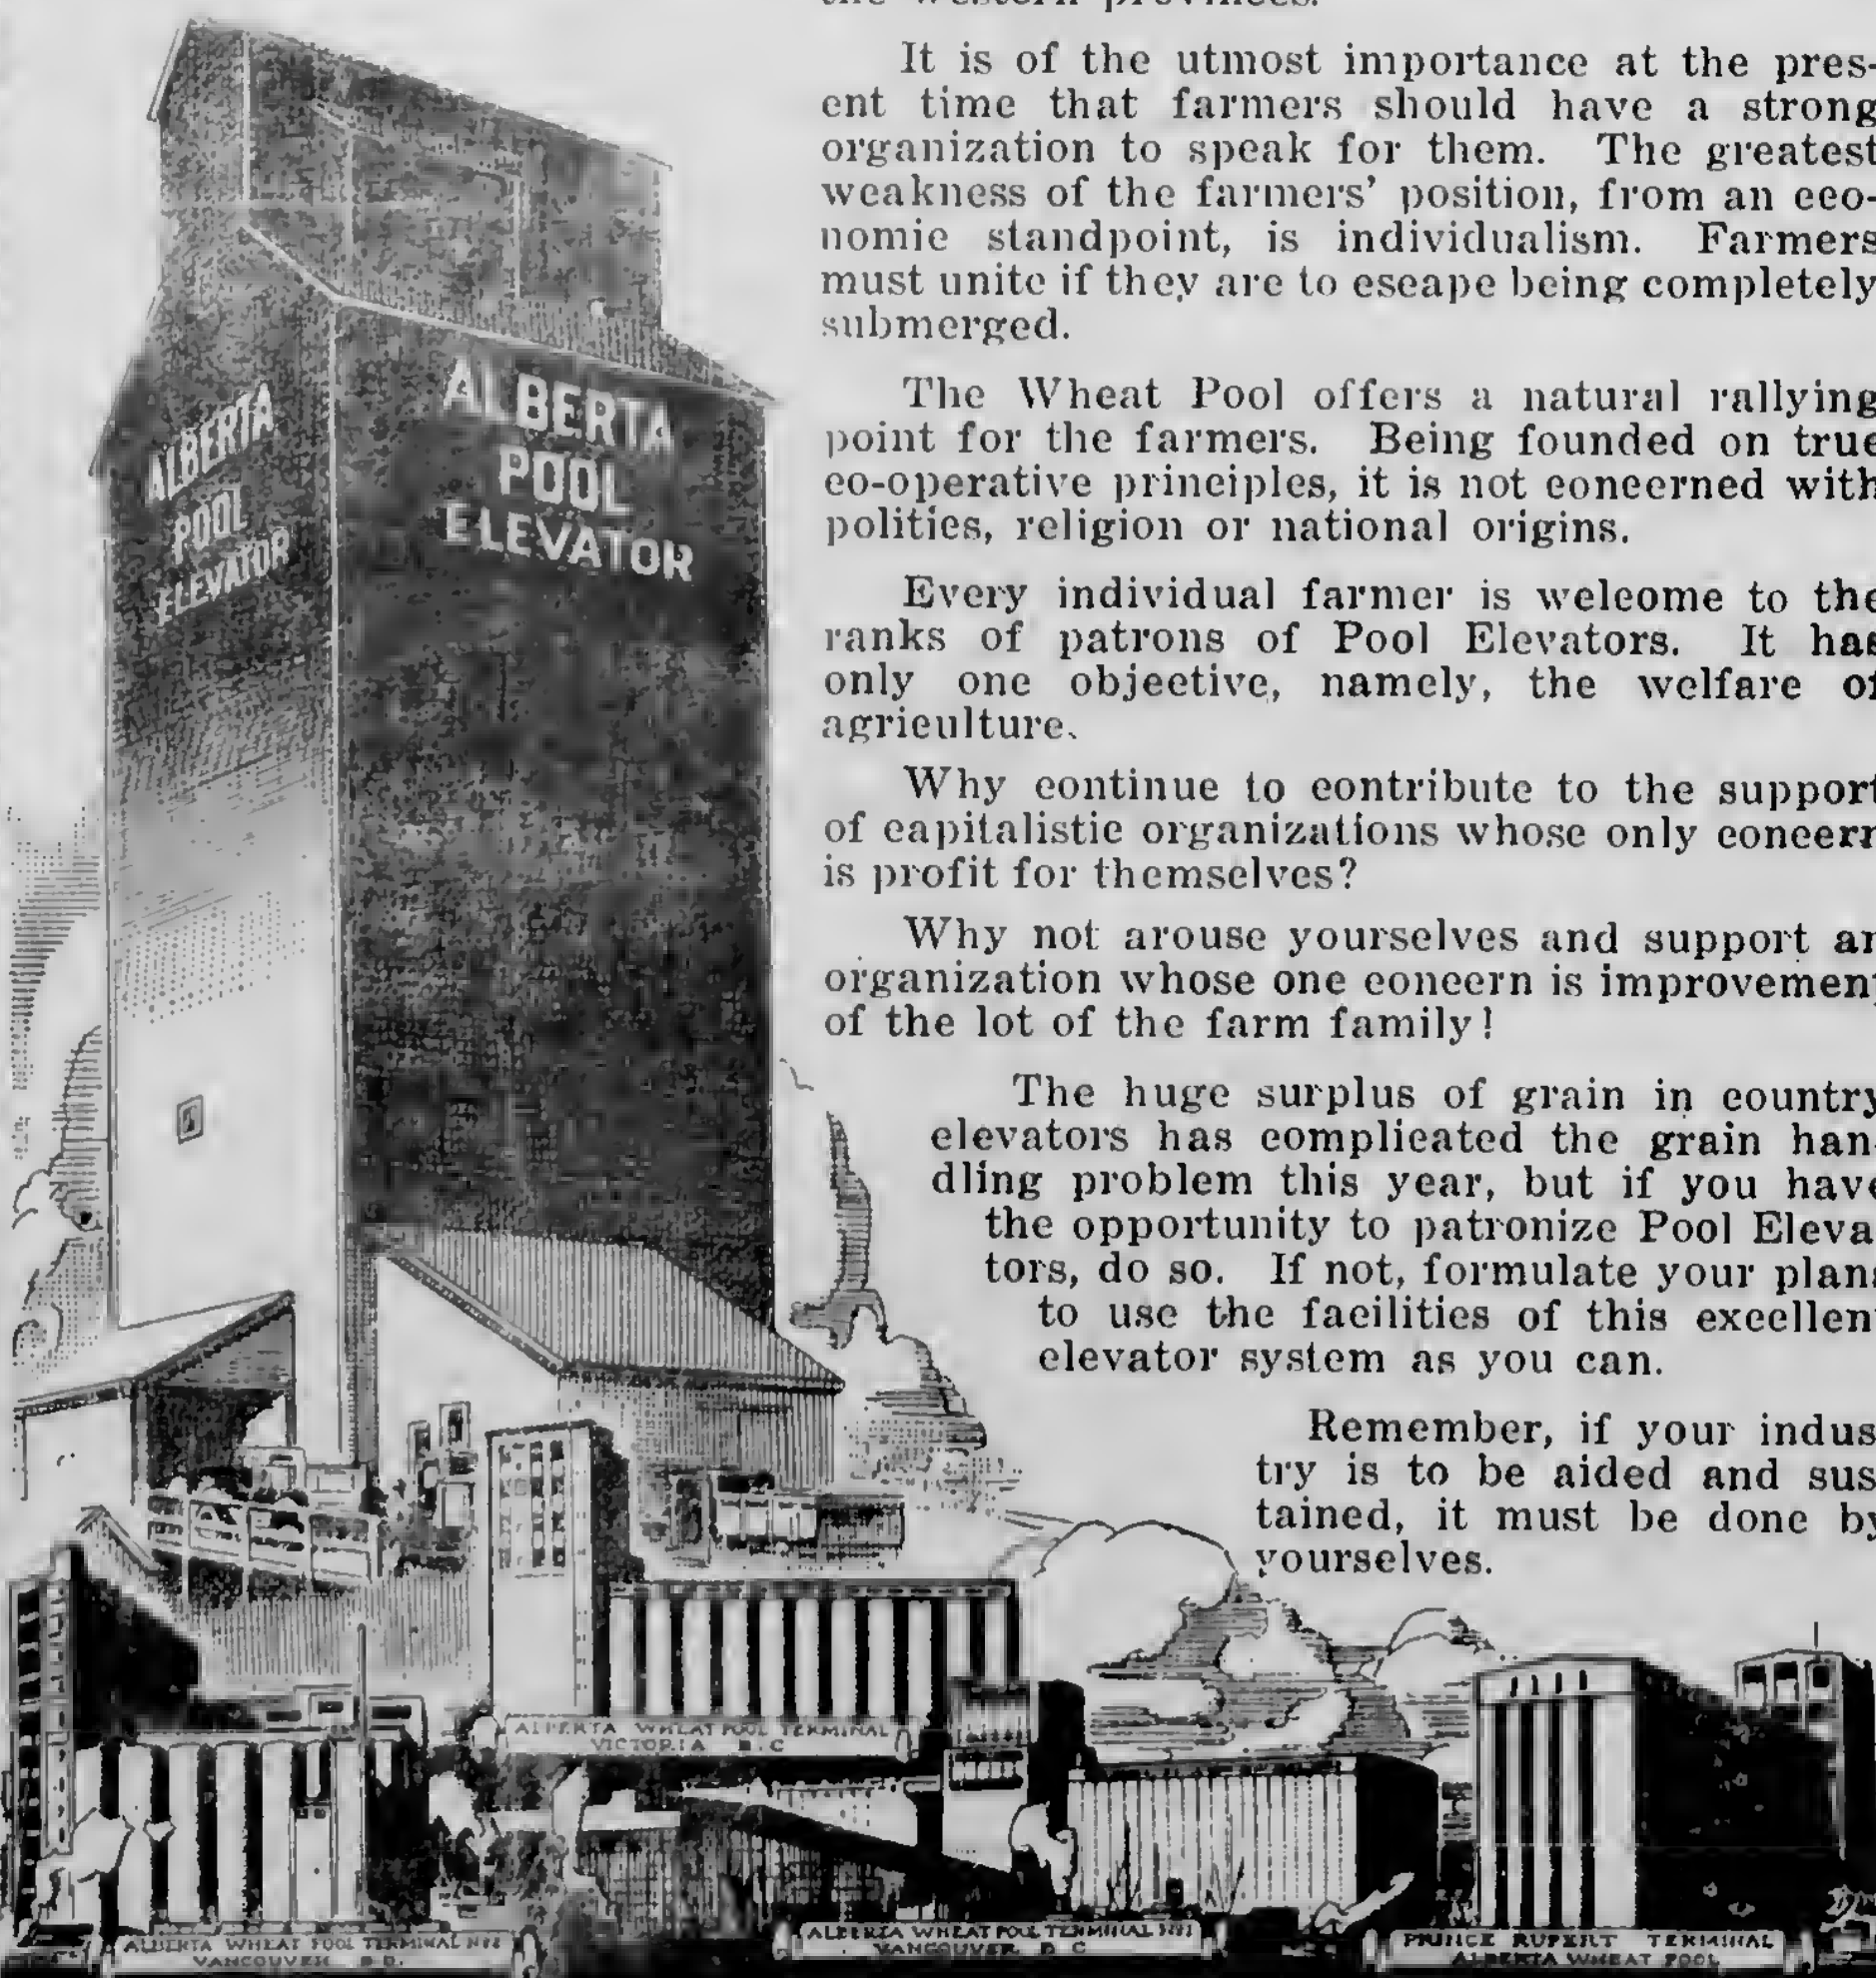

Every individual farmer is welcome to the ranks of patrons of Pool Elevators. It has only one objective, namely, the welfare of agriculture.

Why continue to contribute to the support of capitalistic organizations whose only concern is profit for themselves?

Why not arouse yourselves and support an organization whose one concern is improvement of the lot of the farm family?

The huge surplus of grain in country elevators has complicated the grain handling problem this year, but if you have the opportunity to patronize Pool Elevators, do so. If not, formulate your plans to use the facilities of this excellent elevator system as you can.

Remember, if your industry is to be aided and sustained, it must be done by yourselves.

WEEKLY LETTER

PREPARING VEGETABLE
EXHIBITS

The lack of proper preparation of vegetables for exhibit at the country and school fairs during the fall season has been so much in evidence during past years that the writer, who has judged at many fairs, feels it timely to offer suggestions which may be of help to the prospective exhibitor. The scope of this article is much too limited, however, to make detailed suggestions in the preparation of the individual vegetables and therefore a general outline only will be attempted.

The uniformity of any exhibit is of prime importance. The vegetables in an exhibit should be similar in size and shape. Too many exhibitors fail, owing to the lack of uniformity in their entry.

Each specimen should be fresh, firm, smooth and free from blemish. Nothing wilted, soft, spongy or decayed should be entered for an exhibit.

Weight is taken into consideration when cabbage, melons, squash, pumpkins, onions and citrons are judged. Whiteness is always to be avoided; the heavier specimens are invariably placed first by judges.

The size which certain vegetables should be to obtain first place is a much debated point. Many exhibitors give preference to large size rather than to quality. Invariably large size does not denote quality. Medium size in most cases is usually chosen.

Skin color distinctions are often important in vegetables for exhibit. In general, the deeper shades are preferable to the lighter shades, but the color must always be typical of the variety. For instance, deep yellow carrots are preferable to light yellow. Dark red beets are more desirable than the lighter colored. Pure white cauliflower is ranked higher than ivory or cream colored. Dark green spinach and parsley are preferred to light green.

The vegetables should be as free as possible from disease, insect injury, growth cracks, discolorations and any abnormal or deformed growth. Among the root vegetables in particular it should be pointed out that side roots and flesh discolorations are very objectionable. The white rings in beets should be as small as possible or entirely absent. A small core is highly desirable in carrots.

A proper balance is of utmost importance in the preparation of collections of vegetables. Every kind of variety should be conspicuous and stand out from its neighbor. This is often helped considerably by choosing shallow containers in which has been placed the green tops of mature asparagus. Crepe paper of a color which blends with the general color scheme, also helps materially to make the exhibit pleasing to the eye.

The telephone line south from Lethbridge down the Sunshine Trail is being rebuilt with new poles. This week four separate crews were working within a distance of about five miles. One bunch were digging holes, another were putting on cross arms, and others were tightening up the cross arms and trimming up the poles, and still another and the largest gang were busy setting the poles, pulling them up with a winch on a truck. This line carries a large number of wires and cares for the telephone service of the territory south and east of Lethbridge.

CROP REPORT

Agricultural Report No. 7

Issued by the direction of Hon. D. B. MacMillan, Minister of Agriculture.

General: The crop situation in Alberta has not declined materially since the last report. Moderating temperatures permitted crops to recover from the intense heat of mid-July, and although moisture has been entirely lacking or limited to light showers grain is reported to be filling fairly well. Crops are maturing rapidly—already reports of considerable cutting have been received especially of barley, and early wheat fields in all sections of the Province. Cutting is likely to be general about August 12th unless a marked change in weather occurs. There are few reports of probable yields. In the central eastern section wheat yields are estimated at an average of about 5 bushels, while in the area north and east of Edmonton yields of from 60 to 70 p.c. of those of last year are mentioned. The Peace River district and a strip across the southern part of the Province promises the best yields. In both areas average to good crop conditions obtain.

Damage to crops is limited almost entirely to Western Wheatstem Sawfly. This pest is prevalent in the south and is reported to be causing serious damage in some areas. A few hail storms are reported and these have been limited in extent, and any damage has been of a minor nature.

Pastures have withstood the drought very well indeed. Practically all correspondents while reporting pastures dry say that feed is adequate. The second cutting of alfalfa is patchy ranging from good to very poor.

The condition of live stock is satisfactory despite the drought. There is plenty of feed on pastures although in many areas it is very dry. No reports of lack of feed have been received although concern is expressed in some areas about the winter feed situation. At several points farmers are endeavouring to meet this situation by cutting grain crops for feed.

The dairy industry has maintained production at a surprisingly high level when pasture conditions are considered. There has been a slight decline in the production of milk from the peak of the season but the amount of butter and cheese produced this year in Alberta is considerably above that of 1940 to date.

The poultry industry is making good progress. There is perhaps more interest being shown in poultry than for a number of years, and early pullets are reported to be coming into production.

The beekeepers have suffered somewhat from the drought and the lack of growth of legumes. However, in the area north and east of Edmonton good yields of honey are being extracted.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Smith and family are at Waterton Park for the week.

Formation of a National Finance Commission to control the issue of National Credit, and responsible to the Dominion Parliament was urged by Premier Abernethy in a statement issued Saturday last. The statement came under the head of National Control of Monetary Policy; Banks and Banking; Safeguards Against Inflation; Orderly Price Regulations; War Finance and Financing Industry and Trade. The statement attracted wide attention across Canada it is said.

E. Ferron, Postal Inspector from Calgary was in town yesterday on his regular visit. He was only here about one hour.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Evans, Mrs. W. E. Nalder and relatives from Utah spent the week-end at Waterton Park and participated in the big barbecue held Sunday afternoon when two yearling steers were hoisted from the roasting pits and served as part of the lunch put on by the Legion of Waterton Park for the Queen's Canadian Fund for Air Raid victims. J. W. said the lunch was exceptionally good and that when they were served the first of the beaves was just about finished up.

To Local Boards of Health

At a meeting of the Provincial Board of Health held on the above date, at which all members were present, it was decided to issue the following order:

"WHEREAS cases of Poliomyelitis are being reported from widely separated points in the province, and

WHEREAS, under Regulation 72 under the Public Health Act, the Provincial Board, in order to reduce the tendency of any disease to spread, may issue orders requiring the closing of specified public buildings,

NOW THEREFORE, the Provincial Board hereby orders that any or every church, school, theatre, picture show, pool room, dance hall, public swimming pool or wading pool, public playgrounds or any other place of public assembly be closed to all children 17 years of age and under, until further notice terminating this order is announced.

A drive for scrap aluminum is to be staged soon. Watch for details and prepare to do your part. In the meantime don't waste any aluminum pots and pans that may serve in Canada's salvage effort.

The Town Hall grounds are really a beauty spot this year. Citizens should make it a point to enjoy the beauty of the lawns and flowers here. Not only the front, but also the back of the building is kept in city park style by Martin Blair, who has had the grounds in charge this summer, and we think "Scotty" is worthy of a word of commendation for his fine work.

WINSTON CHURCHILL'S
TRIBUTE TO BADEN-
POWELL & SCOUTING

In his book "Great Contemporaries," published in 1939, The Right Hon. Winston Churchill devotes several pages to Lord Baden Powell and the origin of the Scout Movement. He describes Scouting as "an institution and an inspiration characteristic of the essence of British genius, and uniting in a bond of comradeship the youth not only of the English speaking world, but almost every land and people under the sun."

Referring to the service rendered by Boy Scouts during the first Great War he writes: "Boy Scouts played their part. Their keen eyes were added to the watchers along the coast and in the air raids we saw the spectacle of children of 12 and 14 performing with perfect coolness and composure the useful functions assigned to them in the streets and public offices."

"Many venerable, famous institutions and systems long honoured by men perished in the storm, but the Boy Scout Movement survived. It survived not only the war, but the numbing reactions of the aftermath; while so many elements in the life and spirit of the victorious nations seemed to be lost in stupor, it flourished and grew increasingly."

"Its mottoes gather new national significance as the years unfold upon our island. It speaks to every heart its message of duty and honour: Be Prepared to stand up faithfully for Right and Truth, how ever the winds may blow."

To benefit by today's opportunities, you must have more than the desire to work in an office. You must have specialized training. For your career, and for your country, you will want to be completely qualified.
